CSCE242 Project Part 1 – Bradley Alford

- ProteinPrepped (I will likely end up changing this)
- My website will be a storefront for a digital business. The business is similar to online meal delivery services except I will set it up as a local business with delivery and pickup options. The business will sell subscriptions to receive weekly prepared meals. The meals on the website will be focused on providing high protein and taste. The website will show off different recipes and also direct the user on how to purchase them.
- Home, Dishes, Plans, Order, About
- We will be storing multiple sets of data. We will have a list of all the recipes being sold, which will be manipulated by an admin but viewed by users. Additionally, we will have a list of user information such as name, contact, their plan, and payment methods. This will be submitted by users but only viewed by admins.
